Join us at one of our Crock-N-Roll events in June! During this time we will share tips about cooking and talking with our children. Good nutrition combined with language-rich activities like talking, reading and singing supports children's early brain and language development. When you talk with your children about nutritious foods, you're helping to build both their vocabulary and healthy eating habits! Join us during one of our Crock-N-Roll events and leave with a new crockpot!
