

HANDGES

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions.

And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

Charlotte

Natalie Jaron
Vivian
Isabelle
Gloria
Cage
Sofia
Gavin

Kamryn

Nick

Mr. H

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Brooklyn
Abram

OWEN

Zylo Byrd

Levi

rust

Adelynn

MAX
Aaron

Daniel
Carson

Kelios

Mr. Harrington

Jaelyn

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Handwritten signature

Brandon

Wolcan Guzuchowski

top

Dean

Marcus

James

Martins

Dannika

Ma

Abrianna Richey

Marah Miller Isaiah Mate

Zach

Evelyn T.

Lyameneau

Alexander MC

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

ANNABELLE

KAT

Emma Monroe

Audrey Wagner

Cheyenne Martin

Maddy W

Dylan Fawcett
Curtis Kemmings

Mrs. Edmondson

Manbe

Noah

Matthew

Hugon

Maxime a.

Josiah Spill

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions. And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions. And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions. And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions. And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

Myers
Crew

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions. And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

Quak

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions. And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Hank

Brandon

Wolcan Guzuchowski

marcas

James

Martinez

Lap

Dean

Dannika

Ma

Abriana Riehl

Mariah Miller

Isaiah Male

Zach

Evelyn T.

Hamperu

Alexander

MC

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Audree

Molly

Kiefer

Claire

Mailey

MONTY

Antoine

Tosh

Braiden

Amiyah

Evalera/Ella

Harper

Piper

Gabby

Everly

LOVI

Stella

Jayden

Tayla

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Wife to Leah McClellan

Georgia Hays

Joel

Melanie

Kei Padilla

Sophie

Michael

Asbury

John Stuber

Adam

Tyson

David

Thomas

Melissa

Greg Jones

Calista M. Addalinger

Lily

Kari

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Ms. Eastman

[Signature]

Tamag Carlson

Jaelynn Schaben

[Signature]

JACKSON Rader

Brooklyn Standifer

Hunter Laid
I Love Reid

clayson Aburiki Audiloeffler

DEW

Chris pyrah Osiristorrey

[Signature] Bekki

Elijah CRUZ

Grexson Green

Hayden Ramsdell

Christian Nelson

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Elijah S.

Chase D.

Connor B.

Robin

Kai M.

Emily M.

Willie Soloway
Ophelee Davis

Hattie D.

Levi

Chase

Megan Eilers

Joshyn

Teagan Wilcard

Imhau

Ava

Nicolas

Teacher : Ms. Poortvliet

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Xavier "LeBron Jr" Goodspeed

Austin

Mariah Elkins

Lana Woodruff

Sampson

Joe Sisti

admiral

Allison Ladd
maya Goodspeed

Caleb Thompson

Mike Weaver

Dege

NICHOLAS
MUNGA

Camryn
ROSE

Jackson
Stump

Brayden
Schultz

Marylee Wagner

297x25

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Aiden

Kynlee
Biley

Julie Hen

Nya

Brayden M.
Dorsey

Makenzie
Makowski

ELIK

Peyton
Marshall

Aichi

TONY Sydney

Dominic

Lilly

Martin

08 30
27
16
43

Ms Deising

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

67

AShep

Kayla

Sammer

Kairi

Lilly

Railyn

Tommy

Emmalynn

Steph

MASON

David B

Kiagan, H

Kyrie

Camden

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Kendall Kramer

Leticia Wise

Natalie Cameron

Josao Pedro Luiz

Eddie D
Sydney Hill

Brady Rivette

Oliver Hderac

Faith Ferguson

Ava Vornes

Emma Schultz

David Hanson

Anyrica Oleniceak

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Mrs. Huber

Wendy

Dylan

Kaiden L
McLaughlin

Amarah

Charlotte

Rylee

Evlin

Loren

River Howf

Kora glass
maedens
Silas

Payden

Neis

Alexis

Charlie

Fiona

Nick

Justice Smith Barton

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Michelle Mitchell
Penny W

Elise

Addie T.

Hannah M.

Cotton
Odele

Bh + Eaddy W
Jong D

Elliana

Michal

BRAXTON

Violet

William T

Lizzie

Jackson

Mrs. Eix

7th gr

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Courtney

Bethany

Grace

Maell

Owen

gracie Bo

Quinn

Savanna

Lydia

Sebastian

Ethan Brandt

Olivia C.

Payton
Chick

Kensley

Eiese

maesyn

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Andrew Erickson

Mydell Mund
Mydell

Malissa Homan

B. Keller

Peyton Stallings

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions.

And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Elenai

hat

Colb

JACKSON

Leo

Conner

HERZ KIRK

McKenna

L. J. Seitz

Wyatt Trombley

BRADY

Wendy

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Mr. Bens

Page Green Chase OIK

Lyla Lagrow

Julian Clark

Olivia Carlson Olivia Driver

Sophia Sensabaugh Drew Edmondson
Megan Painter

Cheyenne Hammon Griffin Close

Aiden Szoklov

Myles Miller

allison Neri

Anna Cook

9.4.25

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Mrs. Olson

Natalie hi

Adrienne

Evie

Creo Jase

Isaiah

Cash

Brynly
Quinn

Bowe

Jack

Clementine

Crosby

Earllyn

Cooper

Zachary

Blake

Thomaz

9.4.25

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Mrs. Olson

Natalie hi

Adrienne

Evie

Creo Jase

Isaiah

Cash

Brynly
Quinn

Bowe

Jack

Clementine

Crosby

Earllyn

Cooper

Zachary

Blake

Thomaz

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Alexa Danks

Colt Durbin

Colton Bennett

Brenden Gilles

Shane Warhelt

Bradley N.

Leahm Verville

Aaron Shaw

[Signature]

William Loring

Piper Fulton

[Signature]

Conan Sene

Madalyn Maynard

[Signature]

CLEAR WANG

Madilyn Bjorkquist

Alexa Kruse

Jay G.

Jaylyn Rensell

Justin Oakley

Aubree Speicher

Jasper H.

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Scott Edgely

Kevin

Abby Loh

Juneaux Edwards

[Signature]

Caleb B

Christian Erickson

Rayton Bussa

Little Vela

Chris

Grady Decker

Makena Miller

Aurora Szokol

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions.

And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

Declaration

At MMHS we are committed to creating an environment that is not only about academic excellence, but also about relationships and creating community, one that is safe and respectful of ALL its members. I want to make a statement about how you and I are expected to behave here and how you and I are expected not to behave. We all have had times when we have said or done hurtful things to others out of thoughtlessness, lack of awareness, or because it seems like just a joke. We all may be tempted at times to treat other people poorly out of frustration or retaliation or because others are doing it or because someone acts in a way that we don't like.

We ask that you demonstrate awareness, respect, restraint, and self-control. With every comment online or offline, these actions could be damaging to someone's feelings and emotional well-being. This is not acceptable. So let me be clear; Any act of bullying, harassment or humiliation against another person, student or adult, online or offline, is against our values. Any cruel words, actions or attempts to harm someone's reputation will not be accepted.

Specifically, cruelty based on race, ethnicity, sex, body shape or size, or physical, mental or learning disability, how much money they have or don't have, or political beliefs, is taken very seriously here. There is no place for those who pick on anyone because you think they act too much like a boy or too much like a girl, or because you don't like how they dress, or look, or their customs, their sexual orientation, or their religion or if they have no religion at all. We ask you this: think about your actions and how you want to be treated by others.

In this place we expect you to do your best to demonstrate respect, kindness and empathy to everyone. If you see someone doing harm to another person, report it or if you feel safe, try to stop it. Joining in or doing nothing is not being respectful or kind. If you feel like going the extra step, approach the person who was targeted later with a kind word or gesture. It isn't tattling or snitching if you are helping someone. You might just be saving someone's life. We all make mistakes, so if someone disrespects you, simply say, "That is disrespectful. Please stop." Get help if the person doesn't listen. And if someone tells you that something you said or did is hurtful or disrespectful, listen, make amends, and examine your actions.

And now I want to ask: does everyone understand what I have said and what we expect of you here?

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Sophie

Graham

Danielle

Aurelia

Morgan

Adelyn

Skylar

Brooke

Barvin

Alex

Sarah

Camryn

Maddy

Ella

Mason

Kortin

Quinteh Lee

Stephen B. Kauter

Debbie Yagerman

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Brook Adamczak

Colton Moore

Hudson Cole

Eddie Huizinga

Dylan Marshall

Lyle Breitfeld

Brendan Baumgardner

Averyn Stetter

Ayla Ramsey

[Signature]

[Signature]

Natalie Mannon

[Signature]

Deacon

[Signature]

Morgan Banicki

Kalson Helinski

[Signature]
allen

When I witness bullying at school, home, work, online, or in my place of worship, I will choose to be an upstander. I will intervene or report the abuse, and I will reach out to the bullied person to offer support. If I learn that someone is feeling very isolated, depressed or potentially suicidal I will reach out and tell this person that their life has value, no matter how they feel at the moment and no matter what others say or think. I will support them to the best of my ability and connect them with resources or people who can offer assistance. I will work to make others feel safe and included by showing respect and compassion. I will not use demeaning language, slurs, gestures or jokes about anyone's sexuality, size, gender, race, ethnicity, any kind of disability, religion, lack of religion, income, politics or other differences...even if they behave that way to me. I will tell someone who is in a position of authority what I saw and heard and make sure there is follow-up.

Avery

Liam

Alice

Trentyn

Adelyn

Adalyn

Myla

Keith

Dayton

Olivia

Josh

Talissa

Hannah

Madi

Avi

Chase B.

A stylized signature, likely belonging to Chase B., written in black ink.

Laney