MONTHLY WORD

from Principal Nowicki

The energy at MHS is definitely picking up as we head into March. Our Mariners are staying incredibly busy with a wide variety of events happening across the building. While it is an exciting time for our school community, it is also the season where we need to be most disciplined. It can be easy to let focus slide as the weather starts to turn, but consistent attendance remains the most important factor in student success. We need our students here and dialed in every day so we can finish the third marking period with strong momentum.

For our seniors in the Class of 2026, Graduation will be here before we know it, and we want to see every single student walking across that stage to celebrate their hard work. This is the time for families and students to be hyper-vigilant about academic progress and attendance to ensure everyone is ready for commencement. If there are any concerns about progress, please don't wait, reach out to Mrs. Hammer or me for support.

Looking ahead at the calendar, please remember that Monday, March 16, is a district professional development day, so students will not have school. This month also marks the conclusion of our current grading cycle, with the end of the third marking period falling on Thursday, March 26. Shortly after that, Spring Break will officially begin on Friday, March 27.

We appreciate your partnership in keeping our students focused and on track during a very busy month.

Mission
